Truth in Action

Little's

- See how many rainbows you can make out of things around your house.
- What does it mean when you see a rainbow?

Mids

- Draw a rainbow on paper & write the meaning. Send it in the mail to someone.
- How do we know we can trust God?

Oldies

- What is a covenant?
- Write your own covenant with God. Write down what you promise to do to show that you love him.
- Go on a walk to see how many rainbows you can spot! Keep a tally of them as you go. Mark down which one is your favorite.

#3 Rainbow Reminder

In a matter of one week, I have seen more rainbows than ever before! Not the real ones, but paper ones, paint ones, crayon ones, chalk ones. There's a Facebook page called "Rainbow Hunt for Kids". People are encouraged to be creative and put some sort of rainbow in their window. Then, parents can drive through the neighborhoods and kids can hunt for these little treasures. I think they picked rainbows partially because they are colorful—a combination of colors like this usually brings joy. The other reason I know they chose rainbows, is because they are a symbol of HOPE. It comes straight from one of the best stories in the Bible—the story of Noah's Ark. Many of us have books depicting this fascinating story with colorful pictures. We can also read about it in our Bible in the book of Genesis. (I encourage you to read it, even if you've read it many times before) Noah was told by God that he needed to build an insanely big boat because he was going to flood the earth to wipe everything out because of all the sin (bad stuff people were doing). He was told to put two of every animal and his family on the boat and then it would flood. People thought Noah was crazy. Nothing he was doing seemed like a good idea. But Noah had faith in what God was telling him. So, he built the boat, got the family and animals, and sure enough—it started to rain. Fast forward to after the flood, 40 long days and 40 long nights. God put a rainbow in the sky as a symbol for Noah and his family. He promised to never destroy the whole earth again. He gave them hope & a new beginning. Even after things went wrong again, God wasn't surprised. He promised them that He would be with them always and had a plan to send his own Son to rescue us all. Thank goodness for that! So, first—he put up the rainbow as a reminder, then he sent his Son, Jesus to die on the cross for us so we could be saved forever. This is why rainbows are not only beautiful but so cool! If you haven't yet, make your own rainbows and hang them in your window. You can help remind everyone that God has a good plan and he is always with us!
